

Charles Miceli Scholarship in Social Solidarity

Sponsored by

The Alfred Mizzi Foundation

The Alfred Mizzi Foundation is pleased to announce the Charles Miceli Scholarship in Social Solidarity intended to honour the memory of Charles Miceli, husband, father, journalist, social activist and committed social-change agent.

Scholarship Description

- Applications Deadline: 30th June, 2019.
- Course Level: the scholarship will help awardees to pursue a post-graduate degree or a continuous professional development course that could lead to a certificate of attendance or diploma. The course cannot exceed one calendar year. Preference will be given to applicants who intend to pursue courses with a high level of hands-on experience embedded within them.
- Study Subject: the scholarship will be awarded in social work, youth studies, psychology and related areas.
- Scholarship Award: The award is a EUR5,000 scholarship.
- Nationality: the scholarship is available for Maltese nationals residing in Malta.
- Number of applicants awarded: depending on the nature of the applications, the number of applicants to be supported through this scholarship will be established by the selection committee during the selection process
- The scholarship can be taken in Malta.
- Course/s followed may be part- or full-time.

Eligibility for the Scholarship

Applicants must meet the following eligibility criteria:

- A minimum of five years, paid or voluntary work experience in any area that contributes to social solidarity;
- Preference will be given to suitably-qualified professionals/volunteers or committed albeit not academically qualified volunteers, who are currently offering their service within voluntary organisations or public entities, and who will be returning to their respective site of practice, once they terminate their studies. This principle applies to professionals/volunteers following full-time as well as part-time courses;
- Preference will be given to applicants whose application is supported by their employer (a letter of support is mandatory in this regard);
- Applicants who already possess a Master degree will not be considered for another Master degree;
- Applicants who are currently reading for a course will not be considered as eligible for this scholarship;
- Preference is given to applicants who can prove that they have been accepted into a course.
